RISKS

The Share Class is assigned to this risk category because of price variations resulting from its currency and the nature of the Sub-Fund's investments and strategy. The above rating is based on the historic volatility of the Share Class and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Share Class. The risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time. The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

Equity investments entail equity risk and price volatility risk. The value of stocks and other equity securities will change based on changes in a company's financial condition and in overall market and economic conditions. Sub-Funds investing in mid and small cap companies involve special risks including higher volatility and lower liquidity. The Sub-Fund may be susceptible to the impact of market, economic, regulatory, and other factors affecting the technology sector because of its concentrated investments in companies expected to benefit from the rising influence of artificial intelligence. At times of such impact, the value of the Sub-Fund may fluctuate more widely than it would for a sub-fund that invests more broadly across varying sectors. The Sub-Fund may be more susceptible to any single economic, political or regulatory event than a diversified sub-fund because a higher percentage of the Sub-Fund's assets may be invested in the securities of a limited number of issuers. Investments in foreign securities may involve greater risks than investing in U.S. securities due to, among others, less publicly available information, less stringent and less uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, less liquid and more volatile markets, higher transaction and custody costs, additional taxes, less investor protection, delayed or less frequent settlement, political or social instability, civil unrest, acts of terrorism, and regional economic volatility.
