Portfolio characteristics and securities are subject to change at any time. May not total 100% due to rounding.

1 It should not be assumed that an investment in the securities listed was or will be profitable. Security percentages are calculated on the total net asset value, including cash and cash equivalents.

2 Other represents equities and mark-to-market values of derivatives.

3 CCC and below holdings are predominantly legacy bonds in the non-agency RMBS sector issued before the Global Financial Crisis (GFC) and overwhelmingly rated IG at issue. Post-GFC, they were downgraded by the rating agencies and have generally not been subsequently reviewed or upgraded. Despite the low rating, we believe that given the dramatic recovery in the mortgage market, improving fundamentals, and a robust underwriting market since the GFC, the sector provides an attractive risk/reward opportunity which is not accurately reflected by the current rating.

It is neither directed to, nor intended for distribution or use by, any person or entity who is a citizen or resident of or located in any locality, state, country or jurisdiction where such distribution, publication, availability or use would be contrary to law or regulation. Only the latest version of the Fund's prospectus, key investor information documents, articles of incorporation, annual and semi-annual reports (if any) may be relied upon as the basis for investment decisions. The summary of investors rights, in English, is available here (www.tcw.com/investor-rights). These documents and other information regarding the Fund are available, in English, Italian, French, German, Norwegian, Swedish, and Danish, at no cost on www.fundsquare.net, www.TCW.com, or at TCW Funds, 3, rue Jean Piret, L-2350 Luxembourg. The Fund has been set up under the laws of the Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg.

Investors acquire shares in the Fund and do not own the Fund's underlying assets. The information and data presented in this document are not to be considered as an offer or solicitation to buy, sell or subscribe to any securities or financial instruments. Information, opinions and estimates contained in this document reflect a judgment at the original date of publication and are subject to change without notice. The Fund has not taken any steps to ensure that the securities referred to in this document are suitable for any particular investor and this document is not to be relied upon in substitution for the exercise of independent judgment. Tax treatment depends on the individual circumstances of each investor and may be subject to change in the future. Before making any investment decision, investors are recommended to consider all of the Sub-Fund's characteristics and objectives as described in the prospectus and other fund documentation, and to ascertain whether the investment is suitable for them in light of their knowledge and experience, investment goals and financial situation, or to obtain specific advice from an industry professional.

INVESTMENT RISKS

The Share Class is assigned to this risk category because of price variations resulting from its currency and the nature of the Sub-Fund's investments and strategy. The above rating is based on the historic volatility of the Share Class and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Share Class. The risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time. The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

High Yield securities can be subject to greater fluctuations in value and risk of loss of income and principal than higher-rated securities. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk, the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk, and price volatility risk. Sub-Funds investing in bonds can lose their value as interest rates rise and an investor can lose principal. The Sub-Fund's investments denominated in foreign currencies will decline in value if the foreign currency declines in value relative to the U.S. dollar. Sub-Fund share prices and returns will fluctuate with market conditions, currencies, and the economic and political climates where the investments are made. The securities markets of emerging market countries can be extremely volatile. Mortgage-backed and other asset-backed securities often involve risks that are different from or more acute than risks associated with other types of debt instruments. MBS related to floating rate loans may exhibit greater price volatility than a fixed rate obligation of similar credit quality. With respect to non-agency MBS, there are no direct or indirect government or agency guarantees of payments in pools created by non-governmental issuers. Non-agency MBS are also not subject to the same underwriting requirements for the underlying mortgages that are applicable to those mortgage-related securities that have a government or government-sponsored entity guarantee. All investing involves risk including the potential loss of principal. Market volatility may significantly impact the value of your investments. Recent tariff announcements may add to this volatility, creating additional economic uncertainty and potentially affecting the value of certain investments. Tariffs can impact various sectors differently, leading to changes in market dynamics and investment performance.

Sustainable Investing Risk: The risk that the Sub-Funds, Funds, or Portfolios sustainable investment strategy may select or exclude securities of certain issuers for non-financial reasons, and that the Sub-Funds, Funds, or Portfolio's performance will differ from Sub-Funds, Funds, or Portfolios that do not utilize an sustainable investing strategy. For example, the application of this strategy could affect the Sub-Funds, Funds, or Portfolios exposure to certain sector or types of investments, which could negatively impact the Sub-Funds, Funds, or Portfolio's performance. Additionally, an investment's sustainable performance or the Adviser's assessment of such performance may change over time, which could cause the Sub-Funds, Funds, or Portfolio's to temporarily hold securities that do not comply with the Sub-Funds, Funds, or Portfolio's sustainable investment criteria. Sustainable investing is qualitative and subjective by nature, and there is no guarantee that the criteria used by the Adviser or any judgement exercised by the Adviser will reflect the opinions of any particular investor. Sustainability Data Risks: TCW uses best efforts to collect data relevant to the indicators and data collated by third-party providers. In certain instances, data is estimated by TCW. Where TCW uses third-party data it does so relying on the due diligence of that provider but cannot guarantee the accuracy of third-party data. There are also limitations with respect to availability of sustainability data in certain sectors. For a number of the indicators there is wide variance amongst the data points provided by third-party data providers, as well as differences between third-party provided data and company disclosure. Additionally, company disclosures for a given indicator may vary in the calculation methodology limiting cross comparability. Market conditions affect certain ratios, calculation methodologies are evolving, and data availability is changing and investor understanding of sustainability risks may be subjective and evolving. Where sustainable data is not available, TCW may need to carry out estimations. In addition, there are many instances where TCW analysts disagree with third party research assessments. Further, TCW's evaluation of sustainability criteria based on this data is subjective and may change over time. Evaluation of sustainability data is subjective and may change due to market conditions, developments in methodologies, data coverage or as understanding of Sustainability Risks evolves.

Sustainability Glossary: For clarity and in accordance with Article 13 SFDR, the following terms are used throughout this document to describe the Fund's approach to ESG and sustainable investing. "ESG" refers to Environmental, Social, and Governance factors considered in investment decisions. "Sustainability Risk" means the risk that an environmental, social, or governance event could negatively impact investment value. "Sustainability Factor" covers environmental, social, and employee matters, respect for human rights, and anti-corruption or anti-bribery issues. "Sustainable Investment" is defined as an investment contributing to an environmental or social objective, provided it does not significantly harm other such objectives and follows good governance practices. The Fund applies a proprietary Sustainable Investment Framework to evaluate and score securities with respect to identified sustainability risks and factors, including physical climate risk (risks from climate-related physical events), transition climate risk (risks from the shift to a low-carbon economy), and other ESG indicators. "Labeled Bonds" include Green, Social, Sustainability, and Sustainability-Linked Bonds, where proceeds are earmarked for specific environmental or social projects. "Unlabeled Green" refers to assets with environmental benefits not formally labeled as green bonds. "ESG CLO" denotes collateralized loan obligations with ESG criteria such as exclusionary language, positive selection, ESG scoring, or low weighted average carbon intensity. "TCW Criteria" refers to TCW's proprietary scoring and sustainable alignment framework, which is utilized to meet the requirements set out in the prospectus and to assess and align investments with the Fund's sustainability objectives. "Weighted average carbon intensity" measures the portfolio's average greenhouse gas emissions per million USD sales, expressed as "tons CO2e per million USD sales." These definitions are intended to ensure all ESG-related language is fair, clear, and not misleading for investors.
